How a Dying Child

Was Saved !

CICERO, HAMILTON CO., IND., Sept. 19, 1997 .-

Cickno, Hamilton Co., Ind., Sept, 13, 1871.—
The following is a time account of what your B. S. S. has done for our little duughter, Hazol, now four years old. When 12 months old a tumpappeared on her heel, which showly grev larger. The family physician thought it was tumpappeared on her heel, which showly grev larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of terefore, glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became clarged, the fresh become declared in the season of either hand became enlarged, the fresh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when sevenicen months old she could not stand, having lost the use of leg and arm. Partial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrecked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of fieth and muscle. At eighteen months of ago she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Rosmonths of mgo sho was placed under the treatment of a prosincest physician of Boston, Maca, but at the end of ten manits she had declined to such a degree that she was in addington the condition. This was in April, 1839 We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful diferman we were over-permuded by friends to try "one bothe" of Swrrya Srczere, which wodd, and before it had all bees taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many day's to come, for it has brought our dring Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The asken thus of her checks has changed to

HER PROFESSION.

"Am I really a beggar?" Edith Shorwood saked this question with a little shudder of apprehension, which caused the scintillating gems in her ears and on her fingers to throw out shalts of dazzling light. "I fear, Miss Edith, that when all claims against your father's estate are paid there will be absolutely nothing left." Thus answered the old family lawyer, Henry Osgood, shaking his grizzled head lugubriously.

"Of course," he added, by way of quali-

deation, "there are some claims which we might fight and thus cave a few thousand "No, no!" answered Edith, positively. "Every claim must be paid, if it leaves me

"Every claim must be paid, if it leaves me with ut a penny."
The old lawyer was an honest man and his eyes kindled at this decision.
"It is as your poor father would have wished," he said. "He was an honest man, although careless in money matters. He meant everything for the best, but death came upon him unawarea. I, for one, believe in the Biblical declaration, 'Never yot have I seen the righteons forsaken nor his seed begging bread,' and you will come out all right, depend upon it." His voice was more kindly in tone as he explained to the new reporter her multifarious duties, glancing meanwhile at the assignment book.

"There are the draily sales at the drave yard and the Tatterspile," he gaid; "aspecial rate of blooded Aldernays at Boothe at I r. M., and a private exhibition of trotting stock at Ellerton's at 4. Here's a card of admission."
